Welcoming the Academic Year 2025–2026

Dear Students, Teachers, and Parents,

A warm and heartfelt welcome to the new academic session 2025–2026! Each new school year brings with it the promise of growth, discovery, and achievement. As we turn the page to this fresh chapter, I am filled with hope and excitement for all the opportunities that lie ahead.

Let this year be one of purpose, perseverance, and progress. Set your goals high, believe in your abilities, and never hesitate to ask for help or guidance. Remember, success is not just measured by marks, but by the values you uphold, the efforts you make, and the kindness you show.

Teachers, thank you for your unwavering dedication. Your role in shaping young minds is invaluable, and I am confident that your continued passion and commitment will lead our students to great achievements.

Parents, your support is our strength. Let us continue to work together to ensure that our children not only achieve academic success but also grow into responsible, confident, and compassionate individuals.

Together, let us make this academic year a journey of excellence, innovation, and joy. May we all strive to do our best and bring pride to our school.

Wishing you all a successful and enriching year ahead!

With best wishes,

Sr.T.Rosa Mary DMI

One day a horseman happened to pass by a farm and demanded water for his horse.

The farmer gladly put the Persian wheel in motion but the horse, unaccustomed as it was to the noise, wouldn't come anywhere near the well.

"Can't you stop the noise so that my horse can drink?" asked the horseman. "I am afraid that isn't possible, sir," said the farmer. "If your horse wishes to drink he will have to take the water with the noise, for water comes only with noise here."

If we need our children to drink from the ocean of wisdom and knowledge, they need to be trained to be accustomed to uncomfortable situations.

Remember NO PAIN, NO GAIN.

Prince Varghese

The Vice Principal

On the 2nd of April, the school reopened its gates for the new academic session. Students, with bags swaying and new books neatly tucked inside, eagerly hurried towards their new classrooms. The air buzzed with excitement as they exchanged countless stories about their semester break. New students, initially shy and hesitant, were warmly welcomed and guided by the supportive teachers, helping them settle in comfortably.

To mark the beginning of the session, a special assembly was conducted. The Assembly In-charge, Mrs. Zulu, chaired the program. Beloved Principal Sr. warmly welcomed all the students, setting a positive tone for the year ahead. Mr. Prince Varghese, designated Vice Principal, delivered an inspiring Thought for the Day, encouraging students to embrace the new beginnings with hope and determination.

"Words and wonders"

By Rebesu N. Ezung

Words do not simply describe reality they create it.

Every time we name something, we claim it. Every time we name something, we tell a story, we carve new paths in the minds of listeners and readers. Words are the architects of dreams.

Not all wonder is grand. A mother telling bedtime stories, a teacher explaining a new idea, two friends laughing over a shared memory these are acts of wonder, seeded in language. Even casual, when filled with sincerity and imagination, can open portals to deeper connection.

Sometimes, it only takes one word to make someone's heart feel lighter.

A kind word is like a small light in a dark place. When someone feels sad, lonely or tired, a gentle word like "hope", "brave", or "dove" can help them stand up again. It's amazing how something so small can be so powerful.

Imagine a person who feels invisible, walking through their day with heavy thoughts. Then, someone says, "You matter". Just two words - but they can change everything. The person's heart lifts. They smile, they feel seen.

Kind words are like magic seeds. When you plant them, they grow into gardens of strength and happiness inside people. Sometimes you don't even see the flowers blooming - but they do bloom, quietly, and beautifully.

In a world full of rushing and noise, kind words are rare treasures. They cost nothing to give, but their value is endless.

When we use kind words, we become healers. We bring wonder back into tired hearts.

So today, choose your word carefully.
Say "thank you".

Say "you're strong".

Say "I'm here".

Your one small word might be the wonder someone needs to believe in life again.

When I feel sad or tired, my grandfather always says, "You can do it".

His words are simple, but they give me strength.

Even when I want to give up, his encouragement makes me try again, I am so grateful for him.

One day, he might not be here, but his words will always stay with me, reminding me that I'm never alone.

Lastly, the small gesture of your can change one's own opinion, the beauty of language, the wonder of wordplay, or the magic of story telling, words have the power to transform, to inspire and to delight.

Thoughts of you pass through my mind
Every single day all I wish is to find
A moment of rest just for me to ask
Am I really worthy to complete this silly task.

That is for me to make you proud
In this world of boundless crowd
And all I wish is a little of your time
For you to hear what's inside
my mind.

That though we may never meet everyday
Just remember how I love
you in every way
